MANY DIE IN FIRE IN HOME FOR THE AGED

Colesville, Md., Sept. 18.—(P)—A fire broke out in a home for the aged today and burned three persons to death, the owner of the home reported.

Firemen earlier had reported three bodies recovered and others visible in the burning structure 15 miles north of Washington, D. C. However, Mrs. Jessie Proctor, 65, told a reporter by telephone only three of her patients had died in the flames.

She was sobbing and after giving that report hung up, saying "I can't talk."

She was reached by telephone at Mrs. Joliffe's home for the aged—a two and one-half story frame building.

A. Forton Thomas, director of the Montgomery County Department of Inspection, said there were 20 patients in the home at the time of the fire.

All available doctors and nurses at Montgomery county, Md., were called by firemen.

All volunteer fire departments in the county also were summoned to help fight the flames in the two and one-half story frame building.

Colesville is approximately 15 miles north of Washington, D. C., a residential area of Montgomery county.

Ten persons were taken to the nearby Washington Sanitarium shortly before noon.

"Some of them are in bad condition," a nurse told a reporter. Three ambulances unloaded the brother-born patients and then drove back to the burning home.

Drivers said additional injured were at the home awaiting removal to the hospital.

Some of the injured also were being rushed by ambulance to Washington hospitals.

Montgomery county hospitals reported they were filled to capacity with injured. Emergency and Maryland Hospitals in Washington were alerted to expect ambulance loads of severely burned persons.

INDEPENDENT BAND IN PROSPECT HERE

First steps toward the formation of an independent band for Warren, under the direction of Ed Williams, are revealed in the announcement that such an organization will be formed by former members of the V.F.W. band who voted almost unanimously recently to sever their relations with the veterans' post. Further information concerning the new band will be available later. In the meantime representative of the V.F.W. is quoted as saying that the situation is under consideration and no decision has been reached regarding the future status of the band project, which has been promoted by the post for the past 25 years.

Engineer Is Injured During Fire at the Myers Laboratories in Laurel Street

Gordon L. Hanks, 110 West Fifth avenue, chemical engineer for the Myers Laboratories, Inc., 403 Laurel street, is a patient in Warren General Hospital as the result of superficial burns suffered in a fire at the laboratories this morning, damage from which is estimated by J. J. Myers, president, at $15,000, mostly from water.

Mr. Hanks was preparing a valve in a water-jacketed kettle when the water in the jackets turned into steam and the valve was thrown into him and about the room, starting a fire wherever it landed. Twenty automatic sprinkler heads were set off by the heat.

The ladder truck and pumper from Central Station and the engine from West Side station responded to the alarm at 10:34, returning at 12:07.

Mr. Myers said this afternoon that the damage was not confined to the laboratories alone, but that the Certified Electric Corporation, which concern occupies the same building, also were damaged.

Mr. Hanks' burns are not considered to be serious, and he is expected to leave the hospital tomorrow.

The Myers Company manufactures pharmaceuticals.

MILK CONTAINER ACT DECLARED ILLEGAL

Washington, Pa., Sept. 18.—(P)—Judge George T. Cummins of Washington county common pleas court has ruled that a city ordinance requiring sale of milk in glass containers is illegal.

Judge Cummins granted the city Milk Company an injunction prohibiting the city of Washington to enforce the ordinance or to interfere with the sale of milk in paper containers.

The jurist, citing the 14th amendment to the Constitution, declared the city lacks the power to permit one kind of container while prohibiting another—if both are sanitary.

Republican Leadership Pushes $138,250,000 Compromise Tax Program Toward Vote Today

Harrisburg, Sept. 18.—(P)—The Republican house leadership pushed its $138,250,000 compromise tax program toward a vote today. But senate Republicans adopted a "wait-and-see" attitude.

The contrasting positions of the two branches of the general assembly made it anybody's guess as to what the ultimate outcome will be on taxes as a tentative adjournment date was fixed for Sept. 28.

But Speaker Herbert P. Sorg renewed an often repeated point that Governor John S. Fine's long-stalled state income tax of one-half of one per cent should be passed to and the deadline.

The house compromise tax program, including a levy of one per cent on real estate transfers, was put forward by the house GOP leadership as its "second best" solution of the tax stalemate.

The house program, incorporated in eight bills, was introduced in that branch last night, quickly given committee approval and a first reading in the house itself. That placed it in position for a vote on passage by Wednesday.

However, as the house pushed the program, senate Republicans declined to take a stand on it. Senate GOP leaders took the position that since the house was in custody of the tax package any action by senate Republicans would be premature.

The income levy, designed to raise $119,000,000 in two years, has languished in the senate finance committee since last April. As a result, the tax stalemate has forced the legislature into its longest session in 175 years.

But lawmakers, eyeing the cold certainty of a hotel room shortage here after October 1, prepared themselves for a do-or-die showdown on taxes. They are ready to be summoned into special session next January if the tax deadlock is not broken in the next two weeks.

The first official harbinger of adjournment was a decision by the house to cut off further introduction of new bills after Wednesday.

Gen. Matthew E. Ridgway's headquarters made this point today in a release that spelled out what the Supreme Allied Commander said yesterday in his message to the Red high command.

"There can be no resumption of the negotiations... until the Communists terminate the suspension of the armistice," talks they declared on August 28," the statement said.

"The Allied commander told the Chinese and North Koreans he was ready to send his liaison officers to discuss conditions that will be mutually satisfactory for a resumption of the armistice talks."

But he reminded the Reds that they had broken off the meetings—because of alleged Allied violations of the Kaesong neutral zone—and it was up to them to repair the breach.

The Ridgway message was milder in tone than many of the sharp notes he has sent to the Communist leaders, North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-Huai.

And it hinted Ridgway may be willing to drop his suggestion that the truce talks be switched from Kaesong to another site.

Ridgway's willingness to discuss conditions under which the discussions can be reopened indicated this.

The Communists say a change of site would be a change of site. (Turn to Page Nine)

12 Killed in Blast in Illinois Plant

Wood River, Ill., Sept. 18.—(P)—A terrific explosion rocked the big Shell Oil Co. refinery here last night killing 12 workmen.

About 20 persons were injured seriously. The explosion occurred at one of the refinery's large oil cracking units where a special night crew was working.

A flash fire following the explosion shot flames more than 50 feet into the air. It was quickly snuffed out by company firefighters, but the intense heat hung on, keeping rescue workers from probing deep into the debris.

Cause of the explosion—the second major mishap at the refinery in less than a month—was not determined. A company spokesman said a number of things may have caused it, including a pocket of gas or static electricity. A company official estimated damage might exceed $100,000.

Only last August 21 a fire created by lightning striking a gasoline storage tank caused $175,000 damage.

DRIVERS KILLED IN TWO TRUCK ACCIDENTS

Pittsburgh, Sept. 18.—(P)—Separate accidents killed two truck drivers on western Pennsylvania construction projects.

Charles B. Waits, 27, of Hammond, Ind., was killed yesterday by a piece of heavy pipe which pierced the cab of his vehicle. Police said the load of pipe which Waits was transporting to a new gas line near Greensburg shifted suddenly.

Sam Crisic, 21, New Castle, died under the wheels of his truck while working on a new section of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, 18 miles from New Castle. Crisic was thrown from the truck after it skidded and overturned.

Interesting Report on Child Births Is Made at State Medical Society Meeting

Pittsburgh, Sept. 18.—(P)—Doctors attending the 101st convention of the Pennsylvania Medical Society heard today there is no proof that natural childbirth is safer than delivery aided by instruments, sedatives or anesthetics.

Dr. Clyde L. Randall, Buffalo, N. Y., told a symposium on maternal cases a five-year study of more than 24,000 Buffalo births indicated loss of the baby occurs two and one-half times as often in unassisted deliveries as in instrument deliveries.

But, he added the natural deliveries included women not schooled in the educational program designed to aid natural births.

Dr. Randall predicted compromise will be made between advocates of the two schools, adding: "Obstetricians must admit the merit of the prenatal program developed by natural childbirth advocates and incorporate a great deal of it into their own programs."

He credited advocates of natural deliveries with developing confident, unafraid, and optimistic patients.

More than 2,000 doctors from all sections of the state are attending the convention which tonight will be marked by installation of Dr. Louis Jones of Wilkes-Barre as president.

At a dinner last night, Dr. Jones presented the society's annual Dr. Benjamin Rush awards for outstanding service to the medical profession by laymen.

The Medical Society also presented a $100 prize to Richard McDowell, 18, of Franklin, for submitting the best health poster in an annual contest which attracted 5,000 entries.

NATO DEBATES ADMISSION OF TWO NATIONS

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—(P)—Favorable action on an American proposal to invite Greece and Turkey to join the North Atlantic Treaty organization apparently hinged today on two votes in the 12-nation Atlantic Council meeting here.

Delegates of Norway and Denmark were understood to be awaiting instructions from their governments on how to vote. The proposition must have unanimous consent to become effective.

Indications were that Foreign Minister Halvard Lange of Norway and Ole Bjorn Kraft of Denmark were asking for prompt decision from Oslo and Copenhagen.

Both countries have objected to extending the Atlantic system of defense against Communist aggression into the eastern Mediterranean, but American officials hoped they would not vote against it on a showdown.

U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson put the expected proposal formally before the Council last night. It was promptly supported by British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison, Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France and Netherlands Foreign Minister Dirk U. Stikker.

The session adjourned with other members of the council still to be heard from today. But diplomats assumed the formal presentation of the proposal plus the (Turn to Page Nine)

Penny Post Card Appears Doomed

Washington, Sept. 18.—(P)—The house seemed likely to agree today with President Truman that three cents should remain the cost of mailing a letter.

But the penny post card appeared doomed to memory land. A bill calling for an overall increase of $138,400,000 in postal rates was before the house, with passage expected tomorrow.

Product of the house postoffice committee, it calls for boosts in first, second and third class rates but no change in the present cost designed to add $400,000,000 to mailing an ordinary letter.

A bill passed by the senate—postal revenues annually—would raise the postage on a letter to four cents. That would make the main difference between estimated yields of the two measures.

Both bills are intended to help whittle down the Postoffice Department's chronic operating deficit, estimated to exceed $500,000,000 this fiscal year.

Addressing the annual meeting of the National Association of Postmasters here yesterday, Mr. Truman said he opposes raising first class rates which, he said, pay their own way at three cents.

28th Will Be Near The Iron Curtain

Harrisburg, Sept. 18.—(P)—Pennsylvania's Europe-bound 28th Infantry Division will be given a strategic mission right near the iron curtain," says Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, its commanding officer.

Strickler made the disclosure during appearances before the house and the senate here yesterday.

The former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania said the 28th Division will remain in Europe as long as world conditions require.

"Our job will be to create the impression at least that we are ready to do something if trouble starts and to ward off war if possible," Strickler told legislators.

He said the division has now concluded its scheduled training at Camp Atterbury, Ind., and will leave for Europe in November.

Strickler also took occasion to pay tribute to the Keystone members of the federalized Pennsylvania National Guard division.

Need for Getting Organizations Into High Gear Cited by Civil Defense Head

At a meeting held in the annex of the Court House last night, district directors for Civil Defense in Warren county, were told that we must act now in getting our organizations into high gear.

W. Floyd Clinger, county director, gave a brief talk on the seriousness of the situation, reiterating the unlikely possibility of Warren being A-bombed, but again stressed the possibility of fire bombs and saboteurs. He pointed out that the prime requisite of Civil Defense is the individual taking care of himself, his family, and if this is done, communities, counties, states and nations will follow.

The various divisions and their duties were discussed. There appears to be a lag in the training of police and fire auxiliaries. However, this situation is hoped to be rectified at an early date.

In the communications field, Warren county is fortunate in having a group of amateur enthusiasts who are in the process of setting up a complete radio communication center in Defense Headquarters at Fourth and Market.

Henry Walker, representing this group, pointed out that with the installation of their own generator the station will be used for both sending and receiving even though power is disrupted. Also in network will be three radio cars which can be dispatched to any section of the county.

Merle See, in charge of fire control in the county for Civil Defense, gave a report on auxiliary fire departments throughout the county. He expressed his satisfaction and complimented the departments on their excellent mutual aid set-up which permits fire companies to go anywhere in the county and outside if the situation warrants. However, if a series of fires should break out in the area as a result of bombing or sabotage, these organizations would be seriously handicapped, thus stressing the need for additional trained fire auxiliaries.

Dr. A. Follmer Yerg reporting for the Medical Division, hopes to soon designate an emergency hospital consisting of schools, churches, and other buildings large enough to accommodate injured persons. He went on to say that the response to first aid training has been disappointing, but expects the situation to improve. Also there is an incomplete directory of nurses in the county, but in the (Turn to Page Nine)

Board to Name 13 Men for Induction At Erie October 3

With the Army's induction program being speeded up, the Warren County Selective Service Board received a call this morning for 13 men to be inducted at Erie on October 3. This came close upon the call for 12 men who were named yesterday and will leave on the Pennsylvania train Wednesday morning, September 26.

Melvin Keller, chairman of the Board, said today that the contingent to leave October 3 will meet at the Court House at 7 a. m., E. S. 1, and will be taken to Erie by chartered bus. Names of this group will be announced after the Board holds a meeting, Thursday night.

BURNS ARE FATAL

Tarentum, Sept. 18.—(P)—Blazing turned a 58-year-old worker into a human torch and inflicted fatal third degree burns over his entire body. The victim was Carl F. Sauers, Natrona Heights, who died yesterday. He was working with an acetylene torch at the Brackenridge plant of the Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corporation when the oil line broke, showering him with the fiery liquid.

Third Year of Green Pennant Program Is Being Launched in Borough Schools

Visits to Warren borough schools each day this week will complete the launching of the 1951 Green Pennant Program, now in its third year as a safety measure in impressing upon school children their own responsibility in avoiding accidents which may claim lives or cause severe injuries.

The program was inaugurated at Lacy School, Monday morning, when Sgt. James Vaughan of the Pennsylvania State Police, visited the school in company with Frank Wood, representing the Kiwanis Club, and Paul Yagge of the Lions Club. Safety talks were given and a brief movie was shown by Pvt. Theodore Davidson of the State F. Lee Barracks at Lawrence Park, who will be in Warren all week to teach this picture in each school.

McClintock School was visited in the afternoon by the State Police, accompanied by Louis Critelli of the Marconi Club, and W. E. Lutz of the Rotary Club.

South Street School will be visited this morning, Home Street

Ex-Policeman To Testify Against Accused Gaffer

New York, Sept. 18.—(P)—Harry Gross, once boss of a multi-million dollar gambling empire, testified for the state today in the trial of 18 Brooklyn policemen on graft charges.

At the outset he identified each of the defendants. A recess then was called.

Gross took the witness stand shortly after an ex-cop, who once substituted for Gross in running the gambling syndicate, agreed in court to testify against the accused policemen.

Battle of Buggies Is Won by Steamer

New York, Sept. 18.—(P)—The battle of the buggies has come to an end. And let it be known that a 1913 Stanley Steamer is speedier than a 1911 Stoddard-Dayton.

However, for the sake of accuracy in a supersonic era, it might better be said that the Stoddard-Dayton crawls along a trifle slower than the steam-propelled relic.

In the 1,086-mile struggle which began in Chicago a week ago yesterday the steamer averaged 20.46 miles an hour. The defeated gas buggy's average was 20.22 miles an hour.

The four-wheeled tea kettle wheezed across a finish line yesterday about a minute ahead of the gasoline antique. Its actual margin of victory for the entire trip, however, was 37 minutes.

Sponsored by the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry, where both drivers work, and Popular Mechanics magazine, the battle of the antiques was worth $500 to winner Brause.

REDS STOUTLY DEFEND HILL AT CHORWON

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Sept. 18.—(P)—An Allied armored force with infantry support launched a surprise attack on the dormant western front at dawn today. It was stopped by firmly dug-in Reds.

The Allied Doughboys and tank crews fought all day in the mud and a steady drizzle in their unsuccessful effort to gain a hill mass west of Chorwon. Chorwon is the southwestern point of the Reds' old iron triangle troop assembly area. The town is 18 miles north of parallel 38.

The Reds held grimly to bunkers and trenches on the hill mass. Communist mortar and artillery fire, anti-tank guns and mines helped check the Allied thrust.

About 400 to 500 Red troops were dug in on the hills as the tank column surged up a road in a surprise attack on the Communists from the rear.

Allied infantrymen hit the slopes from the south at the same time.

They reached a spot only a few yards from the crest of one hill but were forced back by enemy fire and the slippery condition of the hillside.

Then the Doughboys tried again. They met with no better luck as the Chinese defenders rushed in replacements from nearby hilltop positions.

Meanwhile Allied troops on the eastern front captured a peak with a five-mile view into enemy territory.

They won the commanding height after a savage three-hour hand-to-hand fight against bitterly resisting Reds.

The hard-fighting United Nations forces swept nearly three miles Tuesday in the general area of the north-south Soyang river. Eighth Army sources did not pinpoint location of the peak.

The Allies, using bayonets and flamethrowers, have advanced 12 to 15 miles northward in two waves of tough hill fighting in eastern Korea.

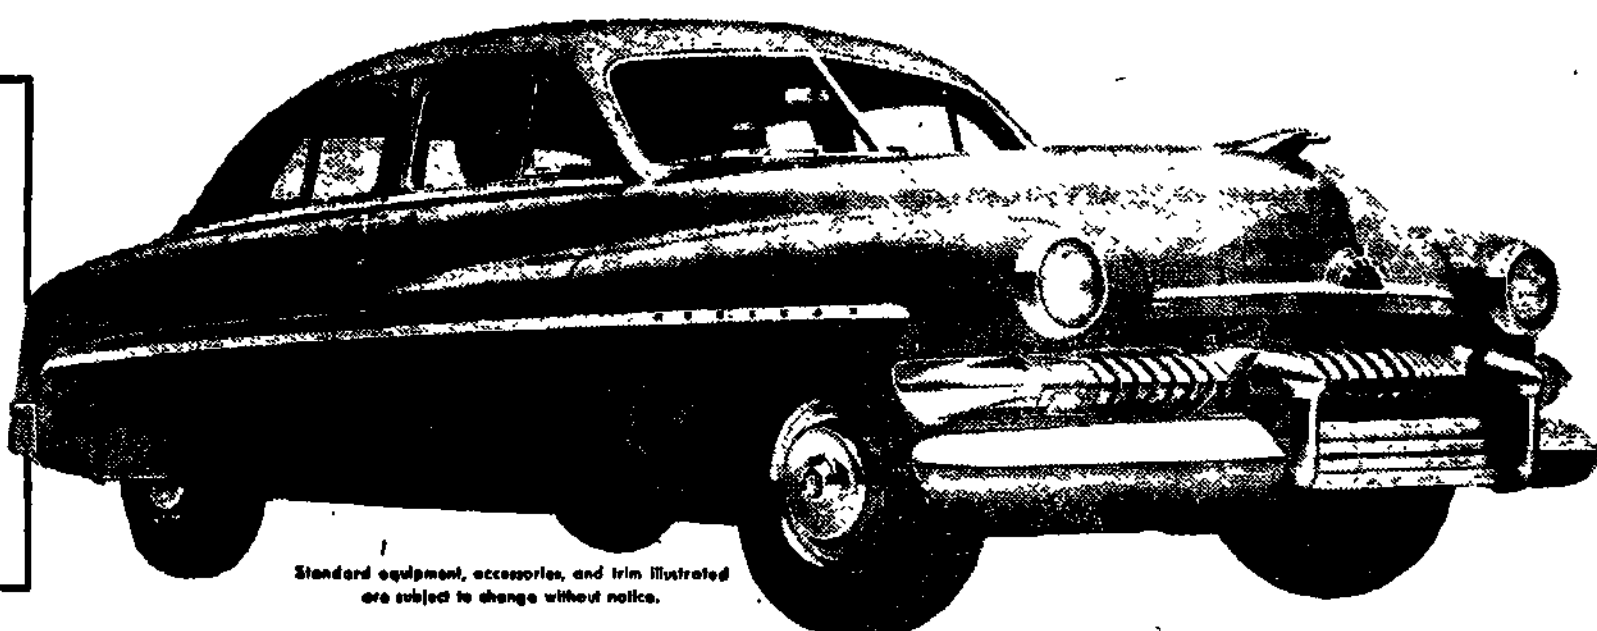

The first limited offensive attack began in mid-August from an Allied line that then was 20 to 25 miles deep in North Korea. That drive carried four to seven miles in two weeks. It cost the Reds their punchbowl assembly area.

The Allies halted for regrouping, then shoved off on a second limited offensive Sept. 9.

The continuing fresh drive has carried the Allies northward about eight miles in fighting that has (Turn to Page Nine)

Marconi Club Sets Attendance Record

Marconi Club committee members, with attendance at last night's smoker setting a new all-time record, were given impetus toward holding another such affair within the next few weeks.

Lou Critelli was chairman of the committee in charge of the smoker, last evening, assisted by Sam Castagnino, Bill Meno, Joseph Bonavita, John Snyder, Francis Font and Bob Harrison. Several hundred were present at the Marconi Outing Club, and are looking forward to the next event.

In his usual inimitable manner, Critelli acted as master of ceremonies and kept things moving in fast style. Among the entertainers he introduced was Gerald LaBelle of Buffalo, who received thunderous applause for his contribution to the program. The agility of Bob Cummings, combined with the instability of a chair, provided an unscheduled event of great interest to all.

A good three-piece orchestra provided excellent music. Lloyd Van Tassel was at the piano, Ford Winters played sax, and the drums were handled by John Craig, who received a rousing welcome after having been away from Warren for eight years.

The committee served a tempting buffet luncheon.

20th Annual Sugar Grove Fair Is Voted One of the Most Successful in History

When the last exhibition entrant had tiredly wended his way homeward from Sugar Grove, late Saturday, and the orchestra had played "Home-Sweet Home" to ring down the curtain on a successful round and square dance, it was evident that this year's twentieth annual Sugar Grove Community Fair had been tremendously successful, attracting one of the largest crowds in history.

Cooperation was paramount throughout the three days of the fair, exhibits in all classes were not only good but largely entered, and the whole colorful setting for the fair made it a pronounced success. President J. A. McIntosh of the Sugar Grove-Farmington School and Community Fair Association, the other officers, committees and helpers were well pleased with their efforts.

The placings in the Warren County Holstein Show having been announced in Friday's issue, here are the winners in some of the other events, starting off with the Baby Show in which 63 babies under two years of age were entered:

GET BACK TO MORAL DECENCY

A few days ago former President Herbert Hoover rose to his feet in his native Iowa and delivered an eloquent appeal to his countrymen to help find the way back to moral decency in American public life. He could well have added "private life."

Mr. Hoover spoke of many things. But at heart his counsel was a simple one. He called upon us to restore the old virtues, to live once again by the old, tested codes of ethics like the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount.

His diagnosis of our moral ills was penetrating. His advice was thoroughly sound. If we are to find our way back to decency, what better guideposts can we have than the Commandments so many seem to have ignored in this troubled time?

We here set them down afresh, in service to the Christian ideals of honor and right living which must underlie our free way of life if it is to survive:

1. Thou shalt have no other gods before me.
2. Thou shalt not make unto thee a graven image, nor any likeness of anything that is in Heaven above, or that is in the Earth beneath, or in the water under the Earth.
3. Thou shalt not take the name of thy God in vain.
4. Remember the Sabbath and keep it Holy.
5. Honor thy father and thy mother.
6. Thou shalt not steal.
7. Thou shalt not kill.
8. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
9. Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor.
10. Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, nor his man-servant, nor his maid-servant, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is thy neighbor's.

VICIOUS FRAUD

Everyone is well aware that one of the highlights of last year's senatorial campaign in Maryland was the use of a composite photograph purporting to show former Senator Tydings, the Democratic nominee, in conversation with Earl Browder, notorious Communist leader.

No one can have any idea how big a part, if any, that picture had in enabling the present Senator John M. Butler, Republican, to defeat Tydings.

But any fair-minded American, whatever his politics and whatever his feelings about Tydings, must certainly insist that no fraudulent photograph has any place in a free and honest American election.

Thus it comes as a definite shock to hear Butler defend the use of the Tydings-Browder picture, especially since he musters the flimsy argument that the photograph "illustrated Tydings' attitude."

In other words, a voter looking at the picture was supposed to understand that it did not really show the two men in conversation but indicated Tydings was "soft toward communism."

Come, come, Senator Butler, how far-fetched can you get? This defense of photographic fraud is no credit to you or to American politics.

An important project is under way in the schools of the borough this week in the launching of the 1951 Green Pennant program, now in its third year. Considered one of the most helpful safety measures ever introduced, Sgt. James Vaughn of the State Police, who inaugurated the program, and representatives of local service clubs who are giving of their time and effort to help promote it, are deserving of the praise and thanks of every one in the community.

Just a last minute reminder that donors are urgently needed for the visit of the Bloodmobile in Sheffield Wednesday, at the Methodist church from eleven a. m. until five p. m. Mrs. W. H. An Old Story, But Still New

IF WE -

LIVE WITH -

LONG ENOUGH -

WE FINALLY COME TO ACCEPT IT!

OH WELL, I GUESS THERE'S NOTHING REALLY WRONG WITH IT!

Here And There

While browsing through the file of October-December, 1951, we were interested to run across articles referring to the visit of the famous Home Run King Babe Ruth, along with his All-Star team including the equally famous Bob Meusel, which played a game against the Warren Independents at what was then called 'High School Field' October 19, of that year. Old-time fans will recall with much interest the game and exciting incidents connected with it, including the home run clouted over left field fence by the one and only Babe in the sixth inning.

Few will recall that the famed Barnstormers were brought to Warren through the progressive enterprise of Leonard Larson, who managed the Carver Hotel at this time. Other incidents that bear repeating at this time is the fact that the late Bill Pedlow umpired the game, and the sports writer spoke of the fact that Ruth and Meusel had trouble understanding him; Peterson was on the mound for Warren, holding the Stars to 11 hits, and to this day Pike maintains he "laid one in the groove" for the Babe to clout out of the lot, and if further proof is needed he suggests it can be proven by Sam Rasmussen, who was the catcher. . . . In spite of the fact that the diamond and field were soggy and muddy the Stars stuck to the finish of a nine-inning game that resulted in a score of 5 to 3 for Babe and his outfit. They were wondering at the time and many still wonder "Who got the ball that Ruth hit over the fence?" And it was said that Ruth's pitching exhibition in the last inning was worth the price of admission. The writer of this column recalls as one of the happy incidents of a long career in the newspaper game, being introduced to both Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel by Christy Walsh, owner of a syndicate that had an option on all the writing of the two stars at the time and who was in Warren to interview the men regarding their controversy with Judge Landis, stemming from the fact that the Baseball czar had suspended them after they ignored a ruling made by him that they should not go on a barnstorming tour. . . . Wonder who the lucky kid was and where he might be today that received some help from Ruth after the game while climbing the high embankment to the Pennsylvania avenue entrance of the field? It is recalled that Coach Leidig had a squad of Dragon football players in the far outfield that day, but records say he didn't get much practice out of them. A wet drizzly rain fell throughout most of the game but the crowd stuck to the finish. Players on the Warren team, in addition to the battery, Peterson and Rasmussen were: G. Johnson, shortstop; R. Larson, (Mickey), second base; Ray Poppleton, left field; Bob Burns, center field; Bill Paris, first base; Timmy Burns, third base; Frenchy Duncan, left field.

This 'n' That: The Red Cross Bloodmobile, which will be in Sheffield tomorrow, is in Titusville today where they hope to secure at least 150 pints. . . . Lake View Hospital at Erie reports its 39th infantile paralysis case for 1951 over the weekend and issued another emergency call for an additional iron lung, the eighth one in use being rushed from Jamestown, N. Y., in a fire truck. . . . United States Senator Edward Martin will be one of the principal speakers at a Pennsylvania Week dinner Wednesday evening, October 24 in the Wanango Country Club, Oil City. . . . St. Bonaventure's Ted Marchibroda, of Franklin, connected with two touchdowns passes early in the game to send the Bonnies on the way to crushing St. Francis at Olean, 65-6. . . . Corry sportsmen last week assisted Lyle Watrous, deputy game protector, in stocking 520 ringneck pheasants in that district as the Game Commission program was launched in the area. . . . Civic leaders in Titusville and Oil City have taken the lead in mapping a protest against removal of two Pennsylvania Railroad passenger trains running between Oil City and Corry by scheduling a meeting for this evening in the Arlington Hotel. . . . The annual potato harvest will get underway in full swing this week. . . . The Corry Journal calls attention to the fact that several members of the Carlton Curtis family at Columbus came away with ribbons in the Northwestern Pennsylvania Cattle Show at New Bethlehem. . . . Recent acquisition of 71 stores by the G. C. Murphy Co. chain has resulted in the firm being expanded to the point where it is the fourth largest chain concern in the nation. . . . We received the first "Santa Claus" letter in Monday's mail, reminding that the holidays are just around the nearest corner. . . . Tonight's your last opportunity to see the Randy Turpin-Sugar Ray Robinson pictures at the Library theater.

GOP Could Do a Lot Worse Than Run Gov. Warren in 1952

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO (NEA)—Gov. Earl Warren of California is a nice guy. And as the world well knows, there's only one thing finer than a nice guy.

In a way, Governor Warren is too nice a guy to be in politics. But that's the wrong way to say it. The right way is to say that there ought to be more nice guys like Earl Warren in politics.

He is easy to meet and easy to talk to. What's more, he doesn't talk all the time. He knows how to sit back and listen, even when people talking to him may not have anything very interesting to say. He speaks quietly. There is firmness and conviction about what he has to say. But he says it without dogmatism and demagoguery. And there is no table pounding, no loud-mouthed know-it-allism, no profanity to emphasize his words. His conversation is modulated to the level he might use in talking to his own fine family of three boys and three girls. In short, the guy is a family man and a gentleman.

If this brief characterization gives any impression that Governor Warren is colorless, that is wrong. He has a very positive personality. He makes friends. He creates a most favorable impression on every one he meets. And as a vote getter, he has demonstrated his ability by being elected governor of California three times, running on both tickets.

IT'S too bad that easterners and southerners don't know California's governor better. They will have a chance to get closer acquainted in the near future. Governor Warren will attend the American Bar Assn. convention in New York Sept. 17 to 21. Then he will go to the Governors' Conference at Gallatinburg, Tenn., Sept. 30 to Oct. 3.

If on this eastern visit Governor Warren should speak out on some of the political ideas that are on his mind, he would create a lively discussion in Republican ranks. With his fresh, detached, western viewpoint, the man could stimulate a lot of useful soul-searching among the ultra conservatives.

Governor Warren believes that the Republican platforms of 1944 and 1948 were excellent. He says that he himself has never advocated anything not found in those platforms. He calls attention to the fact that Senator Taft was chairman of the resolutions committee that drew up those platforms and that they were unanimously adopted.

Between platforms, between presidential election campaigns, Governor Warren says the Republicans in Congress have not stood for that platform. They have repudiated its policies. If Senator Taft were to run on his record as a senator, and not on the party policies as stated in the platform, Governor Warren thinks the GOP would be defeated.

GOVERNOR WARREN thinks that the effort, promoted by Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, to form an alliance between Republicans and Dixiecrats, is a disgraceful thing. The governor calls it a violation of every civil rights principle the Republican Party has stood for since the days of Lincoln.

He is equally critical of McCarthyism as a policy to be adopted nationally by the Republican Party. Governor Warren believes that is not the American way of doing things. He thinks the party should repudiate such tactics.

On Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's possible candidacy, Governor Warren says simply that he does not know whether Ike is a Republican, and he won't commit himself until he knows, or until the general declares what he stands for.

Governor Warren has not thrown his own hat into the presidential ring. He is unquestionably available. He will be California's favorite son candidate at the Chicago convention. The Republicans could do worse than nominate Warren. The only question is where could they do better?

Annual Meeting Of River Group To Be Held on Sept. 29th

Annual meeting of the Upper Allegheny River Improvement Association will be held in East Brady Saturday, September 29, and plans are under way to make it one of the largest gatherings of the organization in years.

George Needle of Parker, president of the group, announced last night that the East Brady Business Men's association and the Rotary club of that city are sponsoring this year's meeting and an elaborate program to continue throughout the afternoon and evening is being arranged.

In addition to the business sessions to be conducted by the river improvement group, there will be band concerts, a river excursion, a gala parade and a huge display of fireworks to enliven the meeting. J. F. Haley, general manager of the traffic and transportation department of Koppers Co., Pittsburgh, will be one of the principal speakers at the annual session. Other speakers will be Col. Conrad P. Hardy, district Army engineer for the Pittsburgh area, and Capt. Donald T. Wright, editor of the Waterways Journal.

The convention is scheduled to get under way at 1 p. m. and the opening will be marked by a motorcade and band procession to the East Brady auditorium, where all business sessions will be held. Several band concerts are being arranged for the afternoon and evening, and at 6:30 p. m., following the afternoon meeting, a huge parade will be staged. Bands, fire companies and service units from communities throughout the area will participate, and a number of gaily decorated floats will be entered.

At 10:30 a. m. preceding the formal opening of the convention sessions, a river cruise has been arranged for the delegates.

At the end of the association meeting, a gala fireworks display will be presented.

Every effort is being made by the sponsoring groups and officials of the River Improvement Association to make this year's convention one of the largest ever conducted, and it is expected that delegations from all communities along the upper reaches of the river will journey to East Brady September 29.

Men Say They Like Honest Women, but Don't Count on It

MEN claim they like women to be straightforward with them—but...

If a woman points out what are to her obvious flaws in a man a man is praising her is sure to mark it up to jealousy.

If a woman sits a man straight on a subject she knows more about than he does, he decides she isn't feminine.

If a woman keeps reminding her husband of a job he has promised to do, without clothing her reminder in flattery, he calls it nagging.

If a woman insists on airing a grievance that she hopes can be straightened out by honest discussion she is accused of trying to start an argument.

If a woman tells a man she thinks he is in the wrong when he gets into difficulty instead of championing him even though she is sure he is at fault, he tells her he didn't expect her to understand.

MUST BELIEVE EVERYTHING

If a woman comes right out and says she doesn't believe something a man has told her, she is credited with being a suspicious person. If a woman doesn't pretend to respond to a man's mood, she is "cold."

If a woman takes a straightforward way of getting what she wants, men call her bossy.

If a woman says what she honestly thinks about another woman, she is being "catty."

If a wife speaks her mind freely and forcefully, her husband is pitted as being henpecked.

And yet men claim—and probably even believe—that they like women to be straightforward and honest.

Will Guide Warren Players This Season

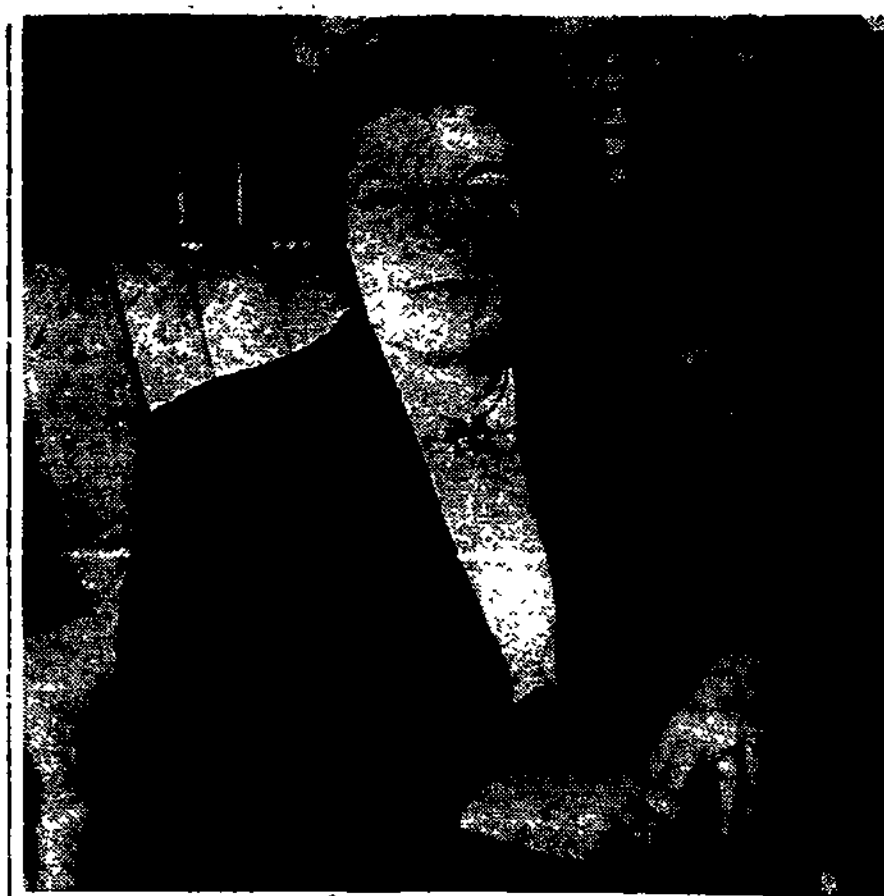

Helen Morrow, posing for the Times-Mirror photographer in her home in Pleasant township, is president of the Warren Players' Club for the current season and entertained members of her executive committee for their first meeting. Following reports by Secretary Marian Heaman and Treasurer William Muir, committee heads told of their activities and discussed their problems.

Program Chairman Myrna Hoagvall gave a splendid report of her group's work during the summer, one long-time member of the club remarking it has been many years since a program committee has started off the season with affairs so well in hand. A vote of thanks was given them by the board for the fine program in prospect. Of special interest was the knowledge that a musical comedy, "No, No, Nanette," seems to be the choice for the March play. Others chosen, and their popular directors, promise an unusually fine season that will provide fun for casts, crews and audiences.

Helen McClure, membership chairman, and Margaret Wright, in charge of membership campaign, presented that subject for discussion. The possibility of a party for the entire membership was investigated.

That the season was really getting under way was demonstrated when Helen Israel, club historian and program advisor for the October show, "Good Housekeeping," told the group that casting is almost complete. A resume of the play was read and those who had seen it done by Little Theatres elsewhere were enthusiastic about its being selected for the first Players' production this season.

Members of the board present at the meeting, other than those already named, were Jean Steele, corresponding secretary; James Bailey, stage manager; Henry Walker, business manager; Imogene Schaeffer, publicity chairman; chairman, complete the board. Fred George Cunningham, past president. The vice president, Mary Helen Johnson, with Audrey Cramer, custodian of properties, and Edna Glasser, box office, respectively.

HOTEL IN PITTSBURGH GETS READY FOR SNOW

Pittsburgh, Sept. 18—Hotel Webster Hall is taking no chance of being caught with its snow fences down this year, if old man winter sends another blizzard Pittsburgh way.

An elaborate, concealed snow melting system is being installed to keep a new sidewalk and driveway in entrance to the hotel clear of both ice and snow.

Wrought iron, grid pipes beneath the surface of the driveway and sidewalk will circulate hot water to warm the concrete so snow will melt as it falls and ice will be prevented from forming.

Although similar melting systems are in wide use on heavy traffic streets in several major cities, the contractor points out they are relatively new for hotel entrances.

Looks Like a Good Season for Chess And Checker Club

It looks like a good season for chess and checkers at the YMCA if the interest indicated last evening by the squared-board fans carries through the winter. Six boards were in play all evening, with some very hard-fought games staged in both chess and checkers. Rex Biekarc, president of the club, conducted a short business session during which the players decided to meet on Monday evenings again this year, starting at 7:30 and playing until eleven. The tournament games to complete the tournaments started last spring will be played off as fast as those who haven't as yet completed their matches can get them off.

Those present last evening, in addition to Mr. Biekarc, were Frank M. Geer, vice president; Blair Craft, secretary; Howard Sorenson, Paul Gordon, L. J. Hulquist, Thomas Craft, O. J. Groves and Willis Wentworth, P. Baumanis and Dan Walton.

The next meeting of the club will be next Monday evening at the YMCA and everyone interested in playing either chess or checkers is invited to be present.

Mrs. Fred Emhardt, of the Board of Managers of the Visiting Nurses' Association, opened the program by telling of the organizational set-up of their organization, and thanked the Rotarians, and through them the community, for support of the Community Chest by which the work is supported. She in turn introduced Miss Downey.

Yesterday's program was in charge of Nat Drake, and the meeting of the club was chaired by President William E. Lutz.

BIDDING DEPENDS ON PLAYER'S OWN STYLE

By Oswald Jacoby

Written for NEA Service
Several good pairs reached a contract of six diamonds in the hand shown today when it came along during the recent national bidding tournament in Washington. The bidding shown with the hand is typical of their style.

North's raise to three diamonds is a slight overbid because the distribution is so poor. Some experts prefer to bid one of the three-card suits rather than jump to three diamonds.

South naturally shows ambition with a bid of four clubs, and North tries to sign off by returning to diamonds. When South makes a second slam try by bidding four hearts, North must show his ace. South then bids the slam in diamonds.

made. South draws three rounds of trumps and can then set up his clubs by ruffing the fourth round in dummy. Nothing could be much easier.

At one table South climbed up to six no-trump. Don't ask me how he got there, because the bidding was too horrible to relate. The truth is that this particular South was having a bad day and was trying to regain lost ground by making something out of nothing.

If West had opened a heart, there would be no story to tell. South would be forced to take his singleton ace, setting up West's king. Sooner or later, South would be obliged to start the diamonds, whereupon the defenders could take the ace of diamonds and the king of hearts to set the contract.

West didn't know it was safe to lead hearts, so he opened the queen of spades. South rejoiced mightily when he saw the dummy because, twelve tricks were laid down with a normal club break. South was a very fine player, even though he had bid this hand like a fool, so he decided not to rely entirely on a normal club break.

Declarer won the first trick with the king of spades and led diamonds until East took his ace. East returned a spade (as good as anything), and dummy won with the ace. Declarer thereupon took the ace of hearts and the rest of the diamonds, discarding a small club from dummy on the last diamond.

West could save only five cards. Four of those cards had to be clubs, since otherwise South's long suit would take the rest of the tricks. Hence West was obliged shop nature, the course will be limited to twenty adults. A course in ceramics "Making of Pottery" will consist of making of dishes of white, buff, or red clay; designing and decorating dishes with various glazes; firing ceramic kiln; making plaster mold so that a number of dishes of similar shapes can be made. Pottery that is made will probably consist mostly of ashtrays, bowls, mugs, plates, small trays, boxes, and figurines.

Classes will be organized under the sponsorship of the local school district and the Extension Division of the Pennsylvania State College. Last year classes were held in engineering drawing and blueprint reading. It is expected that the same instructors will be handling these courses again.

No charge is made for tuition or supplies for residents of Warren Borough. A charge of $1.00 a month is made for non-residents of the Borough for each period or hour's work within one week. A non-resident who attends classes two hours on Monday's and Wednesday's would be required to pay $4.00 a month. The Pennsylvania State College Extension Division has a different charge.

The registration meeting which begins promptly at 7:00 will be brief. All persons interested are asked to report to the auditorium of the Warren High School.

Favorable action by the council here would not be final. What Acheson proposed technically was that the council should recommend to member governments that Greece and Turkey be admitted to membership. If all 12 members ratified, which would mean approval by the U. S. senate and by parliaments in other countries, Greece and Turkey would then formally be invited to join.

Both countries have long sought security guarantees from the western powers, particularly the United States. There is no question about their joining if asked.

Queen City Murder Case

By Wm. G. Bogart

Chapter 1

IT TOOK about three minutes to change clothes with the guard. He had the corpse lying on his cot. Just in case any other convicts became curious, he had turned on the water in the sink. It ran down the drain freely now, and above the sound of the running water he muttered things in a low tone. To anyone listening, especially with the water running, the muttering would pass as two men talking.

Ten minutes had probably passed since he first told Guard Judson about the sink. Now he was ready to leave. He didn't think ten minutes was too long after quitting time for Guard Judson to be leaving the prison yard. Some nights it ran as late as fifteen minutes. Never more than that. He had checked too many times, watching from the cell window as Guard Judson moved across the prison yard.

He took with him the guard's gun, cap, wallet, keys... everything just as it was in Guard Judson's clothing. As he locked the cell door behind him, he added what he thought was a nice final touch.

"Thanks," he said in his own voice, loud enough so that nearby inmates could hear. "I guess the sink'll work all right now."

Then he went down the stone corridor, steps unhurried, his shoulders just a trifle stooped as Guard Judson's had been. At the end of the passage he opened the heavy door with one of the keys, locked it again behind him, and went down the iron stairs to the locker room below. He had expected as he had known it would be. None of the other guards in this section of the prison worked a short shift tonight. Right now they were in distant cell blocks.

He found Guard Judson's long raincoat and battered hat hanging on a hook, put them on, turned up the collar of the coat around his throat. He tipped the hat brim down far enough so that it shaded his eyes. A doorway across the room gave onto a short flight of steps that led to the high prison yard.

He went out into the darkness. The rain was beating down. It was blustery, cold, and the rain beat against his face and ran inside his collar. It felt good against his perspiring flesh. His nerves were still calm. The effort of undressing Guard Judson's limp form had beaded his forehead with sweat. The cold rain, his first taste of freedom, was wonderful to feel as it ran down his collar.

He walked at the same unhurried, slightly stooped pace, across the prison yard. He came up into the circular, saffron glow cast by a light directly over the big gates. He paused, raising his head, looking up toward the guard's tower atop the wall.

The man up there had stepped outside his small lookout room. He didn't come far, because the rain was spraying against him. He had seen the figure leave the guard's room across the yard, watched its progress. He called out "See you tomorrow."

The lifer raised his hand in an easy movement. Many times from his cell window in the darkness he had watched Guard Judson do the same. The wave was identical to Guard Judson's.

The man above stepped back into the small circular room. There was the soft whirr of a motor. The gate opened. He walked through, hearing the gate already closing behind him, swung left along the city sidewalk just outside, and soon was swallowed up in the night. The state prison was located inside the city; it was only a matter of moments until he was on a thoroughfare where there were people and shops and lighted theatre marquees.

He felt perfectly secure. Guard Judson would not be discovered until the rounds of the cells were made in the morning.

He was free!

IT WOULD have been a natural thing for him to pause and watch the people moving through the rainy night standing in doorways, entering the theatres. There were the lights, and traffic sounds and the gay lilt of a girl's laughter. For ten long years he had not seen nor heard such things.

Yet he did not hesitate in his stride. He was a man intent on a single purpose. No longer was his walk slow, methodical, or his shoulders slightly bent. His pace was faster; his shoulders were squared. Rain trickled down his long face as he hurried over granite. His dark eyes were intent and somber.

Soon he located an inter-city bus station inside. He first stepped into a telephone booth and opened Guard Judson's wallet. He counted thirty-four dollars. There was perhaps a dollar's worth of small change in the pocket of the trousers he wore. The gun he had placed in the raincoat pocket.

He went across the big waiting room to the ticket counter.

"When does the next bus leave for Cincinnati?"

The clerk was busy stamping a ticket. He did not look up. "Half an hour."

"How long does it take—"

"Due in Cincinnati at two a.m. Ticket?"

"One-way," he said to the man. The ticket safely in his pocket, he went outside the bus station and crossed the street. He waited in the doorway of a shop closed for the night.

He wondered if she still was at that night club in Cincinnati. He had seen her picture in the newspaper a week ago, at the prison library. Those night clubs changed entertainers after after. Nevertheless, he thought he could find her, even if she had moved on to another city. He had to find her, because she knew of that marriage twelve years ago. A man was a fool to ever tell a woman anything.

She was the only living person who knew anything about his past. Otherwise, he would not have given her a second thought.

Well, it was too bad that she knew. Too bad for her!

Dragons to Play 1st Home Tilt Against Titusville on Saturday

Warren High Blue and White Grids have every intention of avenging a 24-20 defeat handed them last season, when they play host to the Titusville Rockets at War Memorial Field Saturday afternoon. It will be the Dragons' first home contest this year and a victory would give them a good send-off towards the Section Two crown.

The Warren-Titusville rivalry on the gridiron extends back as far as 1896, during which period Warren has won 33 games against 10 defeats and four ties.

But all past records will be cast out the window Saturday as Coach Red Little's Rockets will be anything but a pushover, especially with Donnie Bird running wild in the Brown and Gold backfield.

The Rockets lost their opener to the Oil City Oilers 24-13, but came back last weekend to wallop Millersburg 27-6.

Coach Little's Dragons are still riding the victory trail, beating the strong Corry High eleven 13-5 and Franklin Nursery 25-0. The Dragons finished last Friday's game in good shape and with the

By The Associated Press

Cleveland's vanishing Indians are rid of New York for the season but they may have left the pennant behind in Yankee stadium. As they have done in all but one of their 11 games on the Yankees' home grounds, the Indians lost again yesterday. This time they dropped a galling 2-1 tussle that put them a full game behind the front-running New Yorkers.

It may be a case of out of the frying pan into the fire for the beleaguered Tribe, who open a two-game series with the Red Sox today in Boston. The Red Sox, winners of six of their last seven starts and fresh from a 12-5 romp over the Chicago White Sox, are only a game and a half behind Cleveland in this tense three-team American League race.

Losing to New York is an old Cleveland custom. In the last 20 years the Indians have won only one season series from the Yankees.

It was Phil Rizzuto, the shortest of the Yanks, who beat the Indians yesterday with the shortest of hits. The winning blow—a deft squeeze bunt that didn't even reach the pitcher's mound—brought in Joe DiMaggio with the payoff run.

It came in the last of the ninth after Cleveland Manager Al Lopez had ordered Pitcher Bob Lemon to walk Bobby Brown on purpose with runners on first and third and one out.

The victory went to Eddie Lopat, who squelched the Indians with three hits to reach the 20-win mark for the first time in his career. The only Cleveland tally came in the sixth and it took an error to pave the way for the Indians' unearned run. An infield out followed by Bobby Avila single brought the run across.

Dragonettes Cop a 12-0 Win Over the Beaver Reserves

A squad of Warren High Reserves, under Coach Joe Massa, visited Corry yesterday afternoon and came home with a 12-0 triumph over the Little Beavers.

The initial Dragonette score came after a daring pass deep in Warren territory, in which Morris faded back to the goal line and heaved a long one to Bill Hawthorne on the 35, the latter streaking to the Corry one-yard line before caught from behind. From there Lance Mohney bucked over for the touchdown.

A beautifully executed reverse from Morris to Patch for ten yards accounted for the second Drag-onette tally.

Corry, using a diversified attack, threatened only once, advancing to the Warren five, but a costly fumble and an alert Dragon line jinxed them.

Another squad of Warren Reserves ventured to Lakewood yesterday with Coach Joe Passaro, but were shut out 12-0 by the New Yorkers.

A pass and a run on a fake pass play gave Lakewood Reserves both scores. On the ground, however, the teams were evenly matched and presented a good game.

Anderson came on with the bases loaded and one out after Hornell had scored three runs and were threatening to tie Olean.

Plans Being Completed for the Second County Crusade for Freedom Campaign

Rapid completion of plans for the second Warren County Crusade for Freedom was indicated today in the announcement of Committee Chairmanship by County Chairman David Potter, manager of Radio Station WNAE.

Chairman for the school system is James Newton. Chairman for Clubs is Logan Bolon. Chairman for churches is the Rev. Fred Miller, pastor of the First Baptist Church and secretary of the Warren County Ministerial Association. Publicity chairman is W. H. Wright.

"What is the Crusade for Freedom?" many people are beginning to ask, especially those unfamiliar with the 1950 campaign.

"The answer," says Chairman Potter, "is simple. It is a gigantic effort of a free people to help truth fight communism."

That, indeed—HELP TRUTH FIGHT COMMUNISM—is the slogan of this nation-wide campaign for a world-wide effort. Its 1951 goal is 25 million members and 3½ million dollars in contributions. Warren County's quota is $753 and 5,522 members—"a small goal, indeed," says Dave Potter, "and it should be heavily overtopped." The money helps to maintain Radio Free Europe based on stations in Frankfurt and Munich. The latter, built in record time with the contributions from the 1950 campaign, is the most powerful transmitter in the free world. This giant 135,000 wave, medium-wave station, went on the air May 1, 1951. It is beamed exclusively to Czechoslovakia in direct competition with Kremlin-controlled Radio Prague and Radio Bratislava.

More freedom-stations are needed to overcome the enormous propaganda of the Kremlin. Two more powerful European stations are planned. In addition it is hoped that a station may be established in Asia to tell the free world's story to the troubled peoples of the Far East. Warren's campaign will begin September 24.

NEW, MIRACLE ELECTRONIC EAR HIDES DEAFNESS

CHICAGO, (Special)—An amazing new electronic ear which hides deafness and transmits even whispers with startling clarity, has been revealed by a noted Chicago electronic scientist.

He disclosed that this miraculous new discovery has rendered old-style hearing aids obsolete almost overnight, and brings new hope to the 15 million persons in the United States who are hard of hearing.

He reported that this electronic ear enables the deaf to hear without any button showing in the ear and without dangling battery wires.

To acquaint the hard of hearing readers of this paper with this new miracle electronic ear which hides deafness, full details are described in a fascinating booklet, "New Discoveries to Help the Deaf Hear." It will be sent free in a plain wrapper to anyone who requests it. Address: Electronic Research Director, 1450 West 12th Street, 747A Belmont Building, Chicago 8, Ill. A penny postcard will do.—Adv.

Youth Canteen Plan for Events

The large group of Warren's younger citizens present at the special meeting of Youth Canteen members at The Spot last evening, showed an early resurgence of interest for the coming season.

Called to order by Leroy Salerno, president of the board, the session opened with the young leader advising the members of the importance of supporting the Canteen by serving on committees and giving whole-hearted cooperation in putting over the program.

Next on the agenda, Salerno informed the group there were seven places vacant on the Canteen board, and asked those present to sign up if they were interested in serving in such a position, as well as any committees on which they might like to serve. Considering the interest shown by certain individuals, the necessary incumbents will be appointed until the November election.

The schedule presented, to be carried out through each week, includes dances for senior high students, Monday and Wednesday evenings, from 7:30 to 10:00 o'clock; Saturday night, from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock; with everyone able to attend. The first and third Fridays of the month will be for Beauty Junior High students only.

Talk at the meeting also centered on purchasing a television set for the building, but no definite conclusions were drawn on the matter.

"Turnpike" became a U. S. term for toll roads in early days when roads were blocked by a pole studded with pikes until the traveler paid the toll when the pole was turned aside.

Grange at Lander Has a Discussion Of Future Projects

Lander, September 18—Worthy Master Lynn Burgett was in charge of the regular meeting of Farmington Grange No. 839, when it was decided to hold a meeting October 4th for election of officers.

Plans were also discussed for a Booster Night meeting to be held September 28 with Ackley Grange participating and the session held in the local Grange hall. This will be an open meeting and the public is cordially invited for the program and refreshments which will follow.

It was voted to give authority to the executive committee, Evan Wilcox, Mrs. Ira Stufflebeam and Will Sturdevant, to buy paint and hire workmen to paint the hall.

Mrs. Evelyn Wilcox presented the evening's program, which opened with a song, "The Church in the Wildwood." Roll call was responded to by each member giving "My First Impression of the Grange". After a song, "Comin' Through the Rye", Mrs. Ira Stufflebeam gave a reading, "Who Is Richer?"

It was announced Pomona Grange would conduct a meeting at Warren Grange this evening to instruct candidates in the fifth degree; and it was reported $25.43 was received from the bake sale.

Concluding the evening, lunch was served by the committee.

SALES OF DEFENSE BONDS ON UPTREND

In Warren county, Defense Bond sales for August totalled $53,761.50, of which $39,243.90 was spent for Series E bonds, according to Arthur C. Kaufmann, state chairman of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division Advisory Committee.

Reversing the trend of the past four months, August sales registered a substantial gain over the previous month's sales in figures compiled for the entire state. August sales of E, F and G bonds in Pennsylvania totalled $28,405,916 compared to $27,400,236 during July. Kaufmann pointed out that the latest sales figures do not reflect any of the added impetus given the bond program by the current Defense Bond Drive, as the drive did not get under way until Labor Day.
